“ My experience with Hageman Realty goes back many, many years: to 1983 to be exact. Since that time, we have experienced together the many ups and downs in the ag market. Looking back gives me courage as we look ahead, working together to navigate this ever-changing landscape. With the Hageman Realty firm the next generation is in charge, as is the case in our farming operation. Sara, as her father did, brings the knowledge and compassion that I appreciate when striving to satisfy all involved with the management issues of farmland ownership.
